MAIN BUILDING—CAMP TAHQUITZ

OUR CAMP

TAHQUITZ is located near Idyllwild, at an elevation of 5300 feet above sea level, in the San Jacinto Mountains, Riverside County, 110 miles from Long Beach.

The camp-site was given to the Long Beach Council by Mr. C. L. Emerson of Idyllwild. The land is ideally located, heavily wooded and is situated in one of the most beautiful spots of the San Jacinto Mountains. The land is valued at $10,000. Idyllwild is aptly termed the “Yosemite of the South.” It lies near the center of a vast Forest Reserve Park. Giant pines, oaks and cedars abound and a great virgin forest is accessible to all good hikers—one of the few places in the world accessible only to hikers and horseman.

Our buildings were made possible through the generosity of the Long Beach Kiwanis Club at a cost of $5,300.00. The main building contains a dining room, with a seating capacity of 100, a kitchen, commissary, office, and an immense fireplace. In addition to the main building is a large, well built structure which cares for all sanitary needs, with up-to-date plumbing, showers, wash racks, and toilets, all connected with a huge septic tank—insuring perfect sanitation. An abundance of pure mountain water is piped to both buildings under high pressure.

Idyllwild, and the surrounding country, boasts of 15 varieties of trees, 120 different wild flowers and 85 kinds of birds. For scenic beauty, for camping, for health and for endless hikes and tramps through majestic pines, Idyllwild is without a rival in Southern California. This is the place where Long Beach boys will camp this summer—and for years to come. The Council is indeed grateful to those who have so generously provided for the Scouts of Long Beach.
